

Start your construction career journey today!

Hello there! Are you ready to learn some interesting stuff and get ready for work on a construction site? Then, we've a special programme just for you.

What's it all about?

This programme is part of CITB's plan to help people like you get ready to work on construction sites all over England and Wales. There's a big need for folks who are ready to work in construction, but not enough of them. We're here to change that.

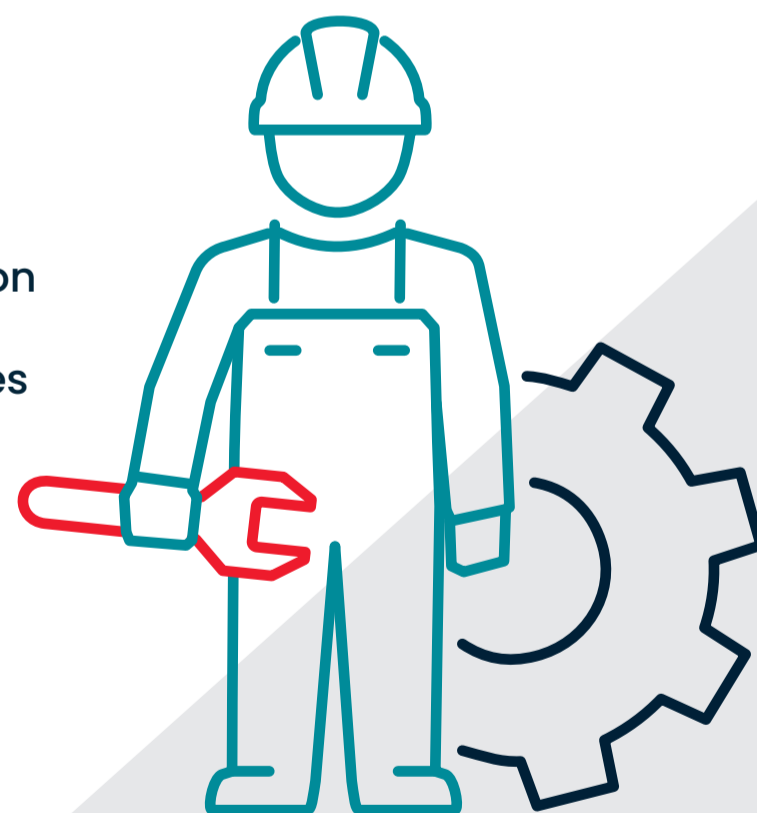

We're offering a special training programme that will teach you the skills, knowledge, and good behaviours you need to be ready for work on a construction site. After the training, we'll connect you with construction companies who need people like you to work on their sites. If you show them that you've got what it takes, they might even offer you a job!

Next steps...

What you'll gain

- Basic understanding of construction site safety and environmental awareness
- An opportunity to gain a CSCS green Labourer card
- How to fit a blade to a disc cutter and use to cut construction materials
- How to conduct a site survey to locate underground services
- Any additional sector specific training to allow you an on-site experience

What you'll need to bring:

- Photo ID
- Any certificates or records of work you've done before
- Your lunch!
- Wear sensible clothes and shoes, no shorts

What we'll provide:

We'll make sure you have a safe place to learn. We'll give you all the tools and materials you need for the programme, and we'll even provide special gear to keep you safe while you learn.

How to sign up...

If you're interested, please email:
jason.benham@kier.co.uk

He'll help you get started on your journey!

Join the constructon revolution!

